

This is Professor Fiona Wood.
She needs friends like you.

About the FWF

The Fiona Wood Foundation is an independent, not-for-profit organisation dedicated to helping burns victims.

The key to the Foundation's success lies in its research, which constantly strives to discover new technologies, techniques and interventions that improve patient recovery and minimise the often devastating effects of scarring.

Introducing the Friends of Fiona Wood Foundation

Professor Fiona Wood and the Foundation named in her honour can only continue their amazing work with the generous support of people like you. Which is why we've started the Friends of Fiona Wood Foundation - a group of like minded individuals whose regular tax deductible donations provide the Foundation with a sustainable source of income.

How to become a Friend

To become a Friend of the Fiona Wood Foundation, you simply need to donate a minimum amount every year. (It works out to be less than the cost of a cup of coffee a day.) In return, you'll receive a number of exclusive benefits to recognise your generous contribution, including a stylish Friends pin, and networking opportunities with an invitation to an annual Friends function where Professor Fiona Wood will speak about the latest breakthroughs that wouldn't have happened without your help.

More importantly, when you become a Friend, you'll be making a real difference to someone whose life may never be the same again. Recovery from burns can be slow and painful, especially for children, but your generosity will help to change that for all those suffering a burn injury.
